

ORB quarterly review

December 2006 | Issue No 13

ORB TECHNOLOGY LIMITED

Performance

The Net Asset Value (NAV) per share rose from $0.932 to $0.941 over the quarter to 31 December 2006, a rise of 1.0%. The fund was positively impacted by a rise in global sharemarkets, although a stronger Australian dollar and higher interest rates detracted from the value of the fund.

The Investment Manager has continued to adopt a cautious approach, limiting the net sharemarket exposure of the Fund to the overall rise and fall of sharemarkets.

TechInvest outlook

After experiencing a lacklustre market backdrop over the first three years of the Fund's life, the Investment Manager is now seeing signs of improvement in the knowledge industries in which the fund is invested. In particular, many boutique pharmaceutical companies are performing well against their much larger competitors. Companies such as eBay Inc that rely on the internet for the success of their business model, and that survived the market correction following 2000, are performing well and improving their balance sheets. Mobile phone operators in emerging markets are also experiencing strong revenue growth.

The Investment Manager continues to believe that the knowledge industries of health care, information technology and telecommunications provide an outstanding source of investment opportunity over the life of Orb Technology.

NAV history

Date	NAV/Share (A$)
31 December 2006	0.941
30 June 2006	0.919
31 December 2005	0.949
30 June 2005	0.992
31 December 2004	0.967

The key factors impacting the NAV of Orb Technology during the quarter are summarised in the following table and are explained in the paragraphs that follow:

	Movement	Impact on NAV
Sharemarket	↑	+
Australian dollar/US dollar	↑	-
Active management of shares, currency and interest rates	N/A	+
Long Term Interest Rates	↑	-

Equity investment

As at 31 December 2006, the portfolio was tilted towards Wireless & Internet, with lower weightings to Pharmaceuticals, Software and Services, Biotechnology, Hardware & Equipment, Medical Devices and Industrial Technology. Short positions were used to reduce exposure in most industry groups.

Currency management

The Australian dollar rose by 7% over the quarter. This currency movement caused a decline in the value of offshore investments in the Margin Account. In aggregate, Orb Technology is exposed to movements in the US dollar to the extent of the size of the US dollar Margin Account, which at 30 June 2006 was 26% of Orb Technology.

Fixed deposit investment

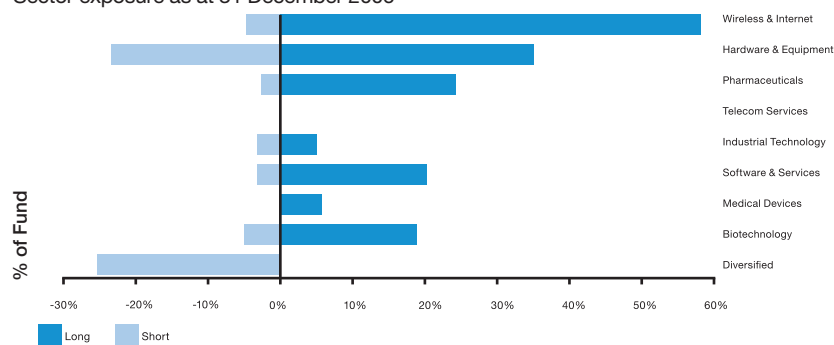

Long-term interest rates rose over the December quarter. As a result, the present value of the Fixed Deposit Account declined in value, detracting from Orb Technology's NAV.

Technology highlights

There continues to be exciting changes in the health care, computing and telecommunications industries covered by the Fund.

ORB INTERNATIONAL ENHANCED INCOME (YIELDS) and (YIELDS2)

Income Plus Trading Strategy

The Income Plus Strategy is based on Citigroup's proprietary trading model that seeks to offer a high level of income and potential for capital appreciation through exposure to global equity markets. Each year, the Strategy selects a portfolio of 30 high yielding stocks from the Dow Jones Global Titans 50 SM (DJGT) index. Further yield enhancement is achieved by writing quarterly covered call options on each of the stocks within the Strategy. The call option overwriting is intended to help the Strategy outperform a direct investment in the underlying portfolio of stocks in all but strong bull market scenarios.

Both the YIELDS and YIELDS2 Investments have exposure to the Income Plus Trading Strategy whilst at the same time guaranteeing the capital value of $10 if held to their respective maturities.

For the quarter ending 31 December 2006, the Strategy Total Return in Australian Dollars was 0.92%. This compares with 0.88% for the AUD Price return of the Dow Jones Global Titans Index. During October the Income Plus Trading Strategy (IPTS) distributed income of 1.21%.

In December, the Strategy value appreciated leading to a positive month-on-month price performance of 2.35%. The overall effect (excluding FX) of the sector performances on the Strategy was positive. The Strategy suffered from a weakening of the USD and EUR and CHF against the AUD over the period. Overall the currencies had a negative net effect on the Strategy performance.
